

THE NARONIC LOST.

The New York White Star Agents Give her Up—Thirty-two Days Out—But Little Hope Left.

New York, March 15.—The White Star line twin screw freighter Naronic has been out just thirty-two days from Liverpool without being seen or heard from. The agents of the line in this city admitted to-day that they had given her up as lost.

"We said the local manager of the line," but it does not look as though she is afloat, for almost every part of the Atlantic has been traversed by steamers or sailing vessels and she would in all probability have been sighted had she been afloat."

The latest news from Fayal, the chief seaport town in the Azore islands, which was received from London, by way of Lisbon, yesterday, undoubtedly caused the White Star people to give up the Naronic. He fate will in all probability pass into maritime history as one of the unsolved mysteries of the ocean. All that remains to be done before she is forgotten is the settlement of the claims for insurance against the underwriters. If it should be possible that the Naronic is still afloat and drifting far to the south, her crew and passengers, numbering sixty-six in all, have not suffered from want as yet, for she was well provisioned and had a sufficient quantity of canned and fresh food in stores and cargo to last for three months.

Among shipping men on the maritime exchange the general opinion is that the Naronic ran into a heavy field of ice or into an iceberg and sunk before a boat could be lowered, carrying every vestige of her down to the bottom of the ocean.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Four Persons Killed and Several Injured by Falling Walls.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning fire started in J. S. Carter's picture frame factory 124 and 126 May street. The building was a brick structure, 150 by 25 feet, and five stories in height. It was well stocked with picture frames and materials and equipped with valuable special design machinery. The flames made such rapid progress that a dozen steamers were summoned to the scene. A short time after the fire started the top of the south wall fell on the roof of Stephen Carter's residence at 129 May street adjoining the factory. The building collapsed burying several people. They were:

J. Chartier, uncle of Stephen Carter. Mrs. Etienne Chartier, his wife. Rose Chartier, 10 years of age. Lillie Chartier, 12 years. The injured: Stephen Carter, rescued from his residence, left leg broken and internally injured; may die. J. E. Cook, driver of engine No. 3, crushed by falling walls and badly bruised, but not fatally. Patrick O'Connor, pipeman engine company No. 7, crushed under fallen wall and bruised about head and lower limbs.

The picture frame factory was valued at $30,000 and the stock worth $30,000, and were totally destroyed by the flames; covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

STRONGER THAN EVER.

McLeod Says the Election was by the Real Owners of New England.

Boston, March 15.—In an interview to-day, President McLeod says: "The New York & New England stockholders' vote yesterday was not a mere election by proxy. It was an election by the real owners of the property. There stood in that meeting three men who have owned for some time and still own 75,000 shares of New York & New England stock. The talk of the purchase of New York & New England simply for control is nonsense. I think there were two individual holders of New York & New England in my party who could not stand the fire and were obliged to sell out, but the control of New York & New England is owned to-day by people whom I represent. I never offered the Presidency of the New York & New England to anybody else. I never changed my plans from the first, though some people made reading go into a receiver's hands, but the Reading is to-day stronger than ever before. I have no time to dabble in stocks. The idea that I could operate the details of these railroad properties and be dabbling personally in the stock market is an absurdity upon the face of it."

MARTIN'S FERRY.

News Notes and Personal from Our Near Neighbor.

James Williams, Samuel Williams and Pat Jones, who are miners at Long Run, came to Martin's Ferry yesterday to have a time. They got a beautiful jag on and missed the 4:47 train. They then walked down to Walnut street, where the first named disturbed the peace of that street. Officer Scott Neal appeared and placed him under arrest. The other two demanded his warrant. Neal said this was unnecessary, because he had seen Williams carrying on, and proceeded to take him to the lockup. The man, who is larger than Neal, weighs about 200 pounds and built like Fitzsimmons, showed fight. He struck Neal below the right eye, discolored it slightly, and kicked at Neal several times. He also bit him on the right arm and bit two fingers on the left hand. Neal's arm where he had been bit by the fellow looked as if it had been struck with a sledge hammer. Marshal Westwood was called and came to Neal's assistance. He had been dragging the bad man from Long Run a portion of the distance, after which he was taken to the lockup, but with some difficulty.

William McNight, of Martin's Ferry, and William and Charles Cummel, of Bellaire, were recently sent to the Riverside penitentiary in Pennsylvania for robbing a jewelry store at Mt. NOT CONSUMPTION.

The Symptoms in Miss Wheeler's Case Had Been Misunderstood and She Had Been Long Improperly Treated.

After Twenty-two Years of Suffering from Catarrhal Drain, Headache, Dizziness, Palpitation, Cough, Chest Pains, Dyspepsia, is Entirely Restored by Drs. Copeland, Bell and Davis.

Miss Ella Wheeler, No. 108 Seventeenth street, a "Philadelphia" dressmaker, furnished the following remarkable statement for publication in endorsement of Drs. Copeland, Bell & Davis's method of treatment:

"My trouble began twenty-two years ago," says Miss Wheeler, "with cough, cold, sneezing and feverish spells. I have taken a thorough treatment from fifteen of our city physicians and have swallowed a barrel of cod liver oil in the rounds of them all without benefit."

"Some of the doctors told me my trouble was hereditary and I would never get well of it, while others told me I might grow out of it, but everything I took did me no good. One doctor told me I had consumption and would never get well."

"Finally I read, in one of the papers of a lady who had precisely the same symptoms as I had and I felt if she could get cured I could also. So I made up my mind to go and consult Drs. Copeland, Bell and Davis and the first visit I made to their office I was so near dead and so very weak I had to stop at different places on my way to rest. I at once placed myself under their care. At that time my nose would stop up and mucus continually dropping into my throat, causing me to cough. I had headaches, pain over my eyes, coughed almost night and day, raising a thick, tenacious mucus streaked with blood. My throat was so sore I could scarcely swallow. I was so short of breath when I would go upstairs I would have to sit down on the top step to rest. Pains all through my chest, into my back so bad I would have to be propped up with pillows in the bed to keep from smothering to death—pains just like a knife running through my chest. Appetite lost, what little I did eat cramped and burned in my stomach and caused so much misery I was almost afraid to eat. Almost anything I ate I would throw up. It would not stay on my stomach."

"I also had pains through my back and kidneys, so severe at times I could not lie in bed. Two years ago, and I sweat night and day, every stitch of clothing about me was just as wet as though they had been dipped in the river. I had chills every day, followed by burning fever and sweating all over. My feet would swell so tight I could not wear my shoes. I had palpitation of the heart, and grew so weak and thin I was nothing but skin and bones, I was a mere skeleton. People would come in and tell my sister I would not live a week and I often prayed that I might die to get out of my misery. I also had dizziness in my head so bad I would often faint."

"I now weigh ten pounds more than I ever did in my life, am stout and hearty, can go to bed and sleep all night without waking, can eat anything I like, and it does not hurt my stomach, the pains are all gone, breath free and easy, can walk without the least fatigue or shortness of breath, have no night sweats or swelling of feet. If any person doubts this statement please call at my home, No. 108 Seventeenth street, and I shall gladly verify it. In fact, the half is not told here."

"I must say I owe my recovery to Drs. Copeland, Bell and Davis, and cannot say enough in this short space in praise of their splendid work."
